

4th GRADE REQUIRED SUMMER READING

May 19, 2010

Dear Fourth Grade Students,

Reading is a very substantial part of your education as well as your success as a student. Children who read for pleasure are more successful in school and find academics to be “not quite so difficult”. You should engage in pleasure reading for at least an hour each day. Reading outside of school will be required in fourth grade.

This summer, you will be required to read 2 books. You will be able to choose one book and the other must be Little House in the Big Woods by Laura Ingalls Wilder. You must complete the two following reports, one for each book. They are not the traditional book reports, these are fun activities. On the following pages, you will find the activities and instructions. You should choose one activity for each book. That means that you will end up doing one activity for each book. On the first day of fourth grade, you will be responsible for submitting the following 2 reports. Those will be your first grades in reading for the new school year.

Have a great summer and please remember to read.

May God bless you and your family.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Bates and Mrs. Mock

ACTIVITY # 1

In the space below, choose a setting from the story and draw a picture of it as you saw it in your mind as you were reading. You may use colored pencils, crayons and/or pencil. On the line below, tell me what page it was on and give me the description as it was written in the book.
